INSTITUTES BELIEVES THAT

Modern nursing is a dynamic, therapeutic and educative process in meeting the health needs of the individuals, the family and the community. It is one of the health profession which functions in conjunction with other health care agencies in assisting individual, families and communities to achieve and maintain desirable standards.

Since nurses provide a large part of health care, it is imperative that their training should equip them with professional expertise to meet the changing demands of society and their expanding role therein. To achieve this goal, Sri Guru Ram Das University of Health Sciences decided to run Courses in General Nursing & Midwifery (GNM), B.Sc. Nursing, Post Basic B.Sc. Nursing and M. Sc. Nursing to impart the knowledge and skills most relevant to the health care needs of the community and the country as a whole.

The International Council of Nurses states that the unique function of the nurse is to assist the individual, sick or well, in the performance of those activities contributing to health or its recovery (or to peaceful death) that patient would perform un-aided if she has the necessary strength, will or knowledge and to do this in such a way as to help her gain independence as rapidly as possible. Indian Nursing Council recognises that basic nursing education is a formally recognised programme of study providing a board and sound foundation in the behavioural, life and nursing sciences for the general practice of nursing, for leadership role and for advanced nursing practice in varied specialities. The faculty at College of Nursing believes that this basic course in nursing should prepare nurses for occupying first level positions in nursing in all kinds of health care settings & recognises that nursing is a profession which is influenced by advances in science and technology. It believes that skills in all aspects of communities are also essential for learning and for the practice of nursing.

It also recognises that the nature of nursing is such that a substantial portion of learning of the students is acquired in the clinical field(s) of practice. It further recognises the inter-dependence of nursing and allied professions and occupations in promoting, maintaining and restoring health and prevention of diseases.

It believes that it has a responsibility in helping the students to develop pride in their profession besides keeping them abreast with current knowledge and professional trends for a successful career ahead.

GENERAL GOALS

Nurses completing these courses will be able to:

Demonstrate awareness and skills required in the Nursing Process in the provision of health care and Nursing of Patients.

Sri Guru Ram Das College of Nursing aspires to achieve the following objectives:

- 1) To prepare nurses to keep pace with the latest professional and technological developments and use this knowledge to provide quality nursing care nationally and internationally.
- 2) To provide community-oriented nursing education that focuses on disease prevention, health promotion and curative health care for the individual, family, community and country at large.
- 3) To prepare nurses with sound foundation in nursing education & research, enabling them to function as efficient members of the health team, with the competencies for positions in a variety of health care settings.
- 4) To help the nurse in their personal and professional development, so that they are able to make maximum contribution to society as useful and productive citizens as well as skilled professionals; also, to provide a basis for further professional education and specialization nursing.
